Venice, Novemb. 13. N. S.

WE are advis'd from Milan, that the Ambaſſadors of this State have made their Entrance into that City with great Magnificence, and receiv'd a publick Audience of the Emperor. They are order'd to attend on his Imperial Majeſty, who was to leave Milan on the Tenth Inſtant, as far as the Frontiers of the Trentin, in caſe it will be permitted; and Signior Farſeti is appointed to receive his Majeſty on the Borders of the Veroneſe. They write from Rome, that the Pope has not yet receiv'd any Notice from the Emperor of his Election to the Imperial Dignity, nor of Signior Albani's Arrival at Milan, where he is order'd to labour, in Conjunction with the Cardinals Imperiali and Archinto, to obtain the Reſtitution of Comachio. The French Court have ſent a very angry Letter to the Pope, wherein they expoſtulate with him, in high Terms, upon his ſending a Legat a Latere to Milan. This gives him the greater Uneaſineſs, ſince he is not likely to obtain the Fruits he propos'd to himſelf from the Steps he has taken in that Affair. The Prince of Lorrain ſet out from hence on Monday laſt for Frankfort.

Florence, Novemb. 14. N. S. The Emperor has given Directions for Eleven Battalions and Five hundred Horſe to march into Tuſcany, in order to reduce Porto Longono, and ſuch other Places on the Coaſt as continue in the Hands of the Duke of Anjou. Theſe Troops were to Rendezvouz on the Twelfth Inſtant at Borgo San Domino, a Place between Placenza and Parma, and on the Twentieth they are to enter the Grand Duke's Territories. That Prince has appointed Commiſſaries to ſupply 'em with Proviſions during their Paſſage through his Country, purſuant to a Treaty lately concluded between the Emperor and this Court; in which his Imperial Majeſty engageth to pay for whatever his Troops ſhall be furniſh'd withal. He has likewiſe promis'd, that they ſhall not march above One thouſand at a time, and that the whole Detachment ſhall be made in Fifteen Days. They write from Milan, that Cardinal Imperiali, the Pope's Legat, made his Entrance into that City on the Eighth Inſtant. On the Ninth he had Audience of the Emperor, and deliver'd his Majeſty the Preſents that had been ſent him from Rome. The ſame Day his Imperial Majeſty gave Audience likewiſe to the Venetian Ambaſſadors, and ſeveral other Miniſters, and on the Tenth in the Afternoon, his Majeſty ſet out for Inſpruck, by the way of Mantua; and will ſoon proceed from Inſpruck to his Coronation at Francfort. Our Letters from Leghorn adviſe, that Sir John Jennings is detain'd there by contrary Winds. Two Privateers have brought into that Port a French Prize bound from Alexandria to Marſeilles, laden with ſeveral Bales of Coffee, and other rich Commodities.

Hamburgh, Novemb. 24. N. S. They write from Elbing, that the Czar of Muſcovy was to leave that Place on the Fifteenth, and proceed by Water to Konigsberg; and from thence to Riga and Petersbourg. The Muſcovite Troops, under the Command of General Czeremetoff, are to continue this Winter in Poland; and it is believ'd that they will not be order'd to evacuate that Kingdom 'till the King of Sueden is return'd into his own Dominions. A Negotiation has lately been on foot, and a Neutrality propos'd to be obſerv'd between the Suediſh Garriſon in Wiſmar, and the Danes appointed to the Blockade of that Place; but hitherto no great Progreſs has been made in that Affair, the Danes inſiſting, that after the Concluſion of that Treaty, they ſhall be at liberty to return to the Army before Stralſund, to which the Governor of Wiſmar will by no means conſent, but that they ſhall retire into the Dutchy of Holſtein, or continue in Mecklenbourg. The laſt Poſt from the Camp before Stralſund having been intercepted by the Suedes, we have of late receiv'd no Letters directly from thence. Thoſe from Copenhagen adviſe, that the Sickneſs is much abated there, and that Twenty-two thouſand Four-hundred and Six Perſons have died ſince it firſt began to appear in that Place.

Bruſſels, Novemb. 26. N. S. We have receiv'd Letters from Madrid, importing, that the Duke of Oſſuna, the Count de Bergheyck, and the Marquis of Monteleon (Envoy at preſent from the Duke of Anjou to the State of Genoa) are named by that Prince to be his Plenipotentiaries at the future Congreſs for a General Peace. The Duke of Vendome is ſaid to have march'd with his Army on the Twenty-fourth of the laſt Month towards Cardona, in order to reduce that Place, having not been able to execute his Deſigns on Pratz del Re. They write from Paris, that Signior Emo is daily in expectation of receiving Orders from the Venetian Senate to return home, the French King being highly offended at the Venetians, for their acknowledging his Imperial Majeſty as King of Spain; for which reaſon Orders have been given for the Confiſcation of all the Ships belonging to that State, that ſhall be taken by the Privateers of France. The French Troops that ſerv'd this laſt Campaign in Flanders, continue to file off; and we hear that ſeveral of thoſe Forces will be Quarter'd this Winter on the Loire.

Hague, Novemb. 27. N. S. His Grace the Duke of Marlborough, who had been detain'd for ſome Days by contrary Winds at Helvoetſluys, embarked Yeſterday for England, as did the Earl Rivers, and the Earl of Orkney, under a Convoy appointed for the former. We are advis'd here, that the Elector of Hanover, who had preſs'd the Return of two Regiments of his Dragoons from Flanders during the Winter Seaſon, has ſince countermanded them, having juſt Grounds to apprehend, that his Example would have induc'd ſome other Princes to have taken the ſame Meaſures in relation to ſome of their Troops in the Service of the Allies. The States-General have lately publiſh'd an Order prohibiting the Exportation of Hay and Oats into the Enemies Territories, or elſewhere, on any Pretence whatever. The Breach of the ſaid Order is made Capital to the Tranſgreſſor, whoſe Effects likewiſe are to be Confiſcated in favour of ſuch as ſhall inform againſt him. They write from Flanders, that the Enemies Garriſons commit great Diſorders in the Frontier-Towns, eſpecially at Valenciennes,
